for an operation that's in existence at the present time?

SENATOR SCHMITT: I don't believe it would be more restrictive. It would be more restrictive, I guess, as far as the construction because they would have to have the construction permit prior to the construction. What's happening out there now, they're going ahead and building the facilities without the lagoon permit so, yes, it...in that perspective, it would be more restrictive there.

SENATOR HUDKINS: In counties...and I'm again going back to Lancaster County because we're zoned, we already have to have construction permits to do any construction.

SENATOR WILL: One minute.

SENATOR HUDKINS: And so why would we also have...well, the...

SENATOR SCHMITT: This wouldn't have any effect on Lancaster County, Senator Hudkins, or it wouldn't have any effect on the existing ones that are there now. It just would be on the ones that are applying or have applied to later on with the interim zoning.

SENATOR HUDKINS: Okay, my...thank you. My final question, since I'm running out of time, they're talking about a distance restriction shall, in your language, shall be more than a quarter of a mile. Where I live and where my feedlot is, right close to my house, there are already eight residences within a quarter of a mile. What's that going to do to me?

SENATOR SCHMITT: Nothing.

SENATOR HUDKINS: Because we're already zoned?

SENATOR SCHMITT: Right. When they're already there. This won't have anything to do with what's existing there now.

SENATOR HUDKINS: But couldn't there be examples of where the county is not zoned, and there's going to be a housing development, and you've got an existing facility?
